

Mars Habitat

Kids learnt about the current efforts to colonise Mars and the harsh environment of this barren world. They became urban planners for their cities designing zones and zoning rules after researching on the city plan for Auroville. They designed sustainable solutions for energy, water, food, waste, etc. after looking at various successful models built here on earth. Finally, they designed their Master Plan and then built their model using recycled materials.

Discussions

Research

Zoning

Auroville Exploration

Master Plan

Model Building

